- Eating more/less than usual
- Difficulties concentrating on homework
- Being more forgetful than usual
- Difficulties making decisions
- Not wanting to go to school
- Feeling tired
- Tearfulness
- More irritable than usual
- Lack of motivation and energy
- Feeling hopeless
- Thoughts of suicide or harming self
- Complaints of aches and pains e.g headaches, tummy pains
- Constantly complaining of feeling bored or lonely, even when they have friends
- Lack of confidence and blaming themselves if things go wrong
- Becoming very withdrawn

How can I help raise a child's mood and help them to be happy?

- ✓ Help children discover and develop their talents, through clubs, groups and activities. Finding something they are good at provides a huge boost to their feelings of self-worth.
- ✓ Talk to them and try to find out what's troubling them.
- ✓ Acknowledge their feelings and help them express their feelings in words. For example, encourage them to say, "I'm upset because..." or "I feel happy when..."
- ✓ Encourage them to get a good night's sleep
- ✓ Help them to stick to a healthy diet
- ✓ Encourage them to exercise, even just a 20 minute walk can be helpful
- ✓ Plan in fun activities to do with them
- ✓ Show them lots of love and be positive about them as a person – tell them what makes them special to you
- ✗ Don't trivialise whatever is causing the problem, it may not be a big deal to you but could be a major problem for the child.
